

SPAIN REMAINS HOTBED OF RED UPRISING TODAY

Over 500 are Reported to Have Been Killed in Several Fights

Copyright, 1934.

By The Associated Press
Madrid, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A Communist republic was declared at Pardo del Rey in southern Spain today as the rightist Madrid government fighting for its life, repulsed determined rebel assaults on three government ministries.

Reports from Barcelona, meanwhile, said scattered fighting continued through the separatist-minded province of Catalonia, with Captain Gonzalo Massano of the army general staff, dead of rebel bullets, and extremists still held Oviedo northern munitions center.

Attacks on the ministries in the capital were repulsed. Volleys of machine gun and rifle fire smashed into the ranks of attackers and caused a determined Red Cross workers picked up the wounded.

Drive Rebels Back
The ministries of war and of communications and the ministry of the interior were attacked almost simultaneously. The drive on the latter, located at the famous Puerta del Sol, was halted by batteries concealed in the ministry which drove back the rebels with concentrated fire.

Buildings in the plaza were riddled with bullets, including the provincial news exchange, a center of distribution of news to the provinces. The attack on the ministry of communications, the third in two days, placed the offices of The Associated Press directly in the line of fire. The building was struck several times by bullets, but The Associated Press office was not touched.

Children in Danger
Confusion prevailed along the Castellana boulevard, near the ministries, where hundreds of passersby seized the infants and hurried them into the shelter of nearby buildings. The rebels returned to the attack after being turned back and again drove on the ministries of communications and war. Pitted battles were in progress at all three buildings.

At Pardo del Rey where a Communist republic was declared, rebels set fire to the city hall and all the city's churches, destroyed the municipal archives and killed the mayor and several citizens.

Madrid completely cut off from communication with Barcelona and Asturias province.

Arsenal Captured
Oviedo, seat of a huge government arsenal, was taken by rebels today in a new outburst of revolt against the government cropping out simultaneously at several points.

Reports from Barcelona said three towns on the outskirts of the city, Matorell, Sabadell and Badalona, were in the hands of anarchists. Troops were dispatched to the trouble centers.

Reports reaching Madrid also said troops were bombarding Ugo and Gijon, in Asturias province, where the rebels were reported solidly entrenched.

Warships were bombarding Gijon, laying down a barrage for advancing troops.

The reports said the rebels were equipped with machine guns and light artillery and were well fortified within the city. Casualties were reported to be heavy.

In the capital, government forces pounced upon the anarchists' and syndicalists' revolutionary committee, arresting its members.

Barcelona reports said troops and rebels were slugging battles within the city, with the telephone exchange in danger of falling into extremists' hands at any moment.

The new flareup of a four-day revolt that has taken an estimated 500 lives and caused some 3,000 casualties came when the government had announced the backbone of the rebellion was broken.

In Barcelona government troops were thought to have been in complete control.

A squadron of bombing planes swept over the hordes of rebels besieging Oviedo, which is in northern Spain close to the Bay of Biscay, and dropped 500 bombs, reports said.

Troops were moving south upon Oviedo from the mining regions of the province of the same name. They were expected to arrive in mid-afternoon.

Military authorities expressed the belief the rebels would be unable to hold the city because they controlled only the streets and forces would arrive before they could fortify themselves.

Troops were sweeping in from Grau and Cornellana.

Transportation workers in Barcelona began returning to their jobs today. General Domingo Batm, in charge of government troops reported the situation in the Catalan capital was "vastly improved."

Claim Asturias
The ministry of the interior said Asturias was in the hands of the government and that Gijon was tranquil after the arrival of reinforcements. Insurgents were dispersed with numerous casualties, he reported.

Estimates placed the dead in the savage fighting, now four days old, at more than 500. Three thousand or more were wounded.

Luis Companys, president of the Catalan generalitat which had declared its independence Saturday, faced a court-martial, but officials refused to say if a verdict had been reached. Companys gave himself up yesterday after government troops bombarded principal buildings of the city for more than an hour.

TWO LEISURELY GUNMEN RIFLE JEWELERS SAFE

$50,000 in Valuables Taken from Chicago Loop Building

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two leisurely gunmen rifled a jewelry firm's safe of an estimated $50,000 in valuables early today after surprising four persons and holding them prisoners.

Maurice Zabie, secretary-treasurer of Silberberg, Inc., whose safe was robbed, said the stolen valuables consisted principally of two suitcases filled with watches owned by Harry A. Nevill, a representative of the James Schultz Co., New York, who has an office in the Silberberg quarters.

John Andrews, a watchman, was surprised in the basement of the Michigan avenue building by the two men about 4:30 o'clock. He struggled with them and a gun was fired, apparently by accident. The robbers apologized for the shot and asked if anyone else were in the building.

Andrews told them a physician was in his office on the tenth floor, and, taking Andrews along, the two men went to the clinic.

Miss Mary Schlitzing, a patient, Muriel Love, an entertainer, and Andrews into one room. One of the gunmen remained to guard them, while the other went to the Silberberg quarters.

The gunmen left after one had rifled the safe, but did not take $200 Dr. Maier had on his person or Miss Love's $1,000 fur coat. Some money and jewelry in the Silberberg quarters also was undisturbed.

LADIES' MAN TO ASK NEW TRIAL IN PENN. COURT

Five Judges to Sit En Banc Oct. 29 to Consider His Plea

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Robert Allen Edwards is to ask the Luzerne county court today for another chance to escape death as the "American Tragedy" slayer of Freda McKenchie.

His attorneys intend to tell Judge William A. Valentine that the court erred in Edwards' trial and therefore should grant a new trial. A jury found the youthful mine surveyor guilty and recommended the death penalty Saturday.

While his lawyers perfected their arguments, Edwards prayed and read a Bible in his cell. It was the Bible given to him shortly after his arrest by his other sweetheart, Margaret Crain, sweet teacher of First Aurora, N. Y.

"Through With Him"
The state charged Edwards with blackjacking Miss McKenchie while they were swimming in Harvey's Lake, leaving her to drown so that he might marry Miss Crain. She has said, however, that she is "through" with him.

Frank McGuigan, chief of defense counsel, said he would tell Judge Valentine that 172 fervent love letters which Edwards wrote his New York sweetheart never should have been admitted as evidence.

He also took exception to the admission of testimony by Warden William B. Healey of the county prison and Dr. Stanley Freeman, jail physician, concerning Edwards' reputed admission of guilt and the court's instructions to the jury concerning "reasonable doubt."

May Prolong Life
The new trial motion started litigation which, even if it fails to save the youth's life, may keep him from the electric chair for months.

Luzerne county's five common pleas judges will sit en banc October 29 to consider defense exceptions. If they deny a new trial, sentence will be passed with counsel ready to carry the case to the supreme court.

Should the supreme court uphold the verdict, the state board of pardons and the governor will be asked to commute the sentence.

Robert's mother, who collapsed when informed of the jury's verdict, remained under a physician's care. Freda's mother, who fainted on hearing the news, stayed in seclusion.

And the district attorney, Thomas M. Lewis, was boomed for a judgeship by Luzerne county friends on the strength of his final plea to the jury for the youth's conviction.

Six of Seven Suspects Confess Having Part in Vandalism and Disorders in Bus Drivers' Strike

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—After grilling seven prisoners for 12 hours, Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley emerged from his office early today and said that six of the men had admitted attacks on buses of the Chicago Motor Coach Company, drivers for which have been on strike for nearly two months.

The seven were removed to the county jail and a heavy guard posted around the cells. The prisoners were named by Crowley as James Tunney, vice-president of the striking union; Joseph Sternberg, a striking driver; and Lloyd Schlee, a striking driver.

GENERAL STRIKE IN CUBA CAUSES STREET FIGHTS

Bullets Spray Streets of Havana and Other Cities in Night

Havana, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Rifle and machine gun bullets sprayed Havana streets today, killing one person and wounding at least 15, as radical labor unions ushered in a general strike.

The office of the newspaper Ohra was destroyed by fire and machine gun bullets were fired at another Diario de la Marina, where one policeman was wounded. More than 35 bombs were exploded.

Dozens of tram cars were attacked by roving bands of terrorists. Violence became general shortly after the walkout, called by the Communist Confederation of Labor, began at midnight.

The violence spread to the interior. One person was killed and seven were wounded in a public park in Santa Clara.

Tram Cars Run
Despite repeated attacks on Havana tram cars, employees stuck to their jobs and ignored the strike call. Taxicabs operated all night although many drivers were warned to leave the streets or suffer the consequences.

Some milk delivery men struck but others continued early morning deliveries, assuring capital residents of an ample supply today.

A check-up revealed the following workers were on strike, wholly or partly: railroad employees, truck drivers, tram maintenance men, dock workers, bus men, sugar-mill employees and left-wing students.

Although walkouts have been called by unions at light, power, gas and water plants, the night crews continued on duty. A number of unions of commercial clerks are under strike orders but it was undetermined whether they would comply.

Troops Patrol Streets
Some disorder was reported at Mantanzas, where one of the important water mains was damaged but the strike in that area lacked general support.

Capital streets were practically deserted throughout the night except for an unusually large number of police, sailors and soldiers on patrol duty. All leaves of service were cancelled as the government tightened its precautions each hour.

Scattered shooting was heard throughout the night, most of it coming from motorists who sped through the streets and evaded arrest. For the first time since the downfall of former President Machado, police and emergency hospital employees showed a reluctance to give information to newspapermen.

Report on Chanute Field's Future is Only Half Complete

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—High officials of the war department said today a special report on the investigations into the continuation of Chanute Field, near Rantoul, Ill., was only half completed, and that those in charge did not expect to turn it over to their superior officers for several months.

The board, made up of Air Corps officers, has been investigating whether to continue the technical school at Chanute or transfer it to another site, to be selected.

The officials said there had been no intimation of the trend of the board's investigation. There had been no changes, it was said, in plans for the administration of the field. The personnel as well as the number of men at the school, it was said, will continue unchanged.

1,700 Students of Chicago High Stay Away from Classes

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—More than 1,700 pupils of Morgan Park high school struck today seemingly with parental support, in protest against Negro attendance at classes.

Only 58 students, two-thirds of them Negroes, were on hand when roll was called for classes this morning. At the third period attendance dropped to 57, an even 10 fewer than the number of teachers present.

No violence was reported, but as a precaution three policemen strolled through the school corridors and three more paced the sidewalks. Several reserve squads were in readiness at the Morgan Park station.

GAS STATION AT FRANKLIN HOLDUP SCENE

Days Receipts Saved by Mrs. Medric Hussey Last Eve

The service station operated by Medric Hussey at the west limits of Franklin Grove was the scene of a daring holdup Sunday evening about 9 o'clock. A strange young man driving a Ford V-8 coupe entered the drive and Mr. Hussey served the drive and Mr. Hussey served the drive and Mr. Hussey served the drive.

They marched Mr. Hussey to the entrance and then calling threats to Mr. Humphrey demanded that he open the door. He obeyed their command and on the inside, the bandits forced both men into a rest room, where they beat them over the heads with their revolvers. One of the trio removed about $5 from the cash register.

Mrs. Hussey was seated in a car in front of the station and witnessed the holdup. Her husband had a few minutes prior to the arrival of the bandits, turned over the day's receipts to his wife, which she had in the car. When Mrs. Hussey observed the holdup, she lay down in the car and was not observed by the strangers.

Mr. Hussey was rendered unconscious by the blows on the top of the head from the young gangsters' guns and sustained a scalp wound, which necessitated the services of a physician. Leaving the station, the trio drove south on the gravel road. Word of the robbery was immediately telephoned to the office of Sheriff Fred Richardson, who hurried to Franklin Grove to investigate.

Court Fight Over Heireiss' Future Behind Shut Door

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew decided today that the remainder of the court fight for custody of Gloria Vanderbilt, ten-year-old heiress, will be a private affair.

The court's decision was announced by Justice Carew's clerk, and also by a court attendant just before the hearings were resumed today.

Dr. Stuart L. Craig, who treated the child for hysteria Sept. 21 last, the date on which her mother, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, charges the girl was "spirited away" by her aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, was the first witness called today by counsel for Mrs. Whitney.

Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt's mother, Mrs. Laura Kilpatrick Morgan, were all in the courtroom.

Convicted Broker's Appeal was Denied

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The United States supreme court today dismissed the appeal of D. A. Dobry of Davenport, Ia., from his federal district court conviction in connection with the failure of the Dobry Securities Company of Davenport.

Dobry was convicted at Davenport last spring on charges of making improper reports on the condition of his firm to the Iowa Secretary of State.

The ground on which the dismissal was made was that Dobry's appeal did not contain a "properly presented federal question."

Cardinals Defeat Rowe Today, 4-3, and Even up Series

Navin Field, Detroit, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, after cracking miserably afled, rose to the most brilliant height of the world series today to drive to victory behind young Paul Dean Deane, the great Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe and win the sixth game 4 to 3, tying the count at three games each. The score—
St. Louis 100 090 100—4 10 2
Detroit 000 002 000—3 7 1

Some Rejected Home Owners May Secure Part of HOLC Loan

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A new program, under which 2,500 Illinois and Wisconsin home owners whose applications for HOLC loans have been rejected because "acute distress" was lacking may still receive their mortgages, was functioning today, according to the Federal Home Loan bank of Chicago.

Distinct managers of the HOLC in the two states have been asked to furnish the Chicago bank with lists of rejected applications in this class. These the bank will relay to its member institutions in their respective localities, and where there are no member banks in the locality, to non-member building and loan associations.

These institutions are being asked to look up these applicants and determine if they are eligible for refinancing on the long-term, monthly payment plan which they offer.

FRUSTRATES JAIL BREAK

Benton, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Sheriff Browning Robinson revealed today that an attempted jail break from the county jail here had been frustrated last night. The Sheriff reported that John Waggoner of Christopher, held on a charge of rape, was caught in the act of sawing bars to his cell. The bars had been severed to a point where they could have been easily broken by hand.

NEW AERIAL RECORD

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—American airlines officials said today they had established what they believed to be a record Sunday night when they operated seven sections on a single schedule from St. Louis to Chicago. The passenger rush, which followed the fifth world series baseball game at St. Louis, exceeded the capacity of even the emergency arrangements, they said.

WON MIXED FOURSOME
Mr. Harold Coss and George Beier emerged the winners in the mixed two ball foursome match play at the Dixon Country Club in one of the most interesting and hardest fought matches of the season. Their opponents were Mrs. H. M. Edwards and L. G. Rorer, the match going to the 51st hole before a decision was reached, when the count stood 4 up 3.

IN POLICE COURT
Earl Stewart of this city was assessed a fine of $50 and costs in the new police court chambers on the second floor of the city hall this morning by Justice J. O. Shaulis on disorderly conduct charge preferred by his wife. In default of the fine he was remanded to the county jail. Police were called to the Stewart home about 10 o'clock Sunday evening, where they were reported to have met with some opposition when they attempted to place Stewart under arrest.

PUT ON PROBATION
Raymond Buchanan was placed on probation for a period of one year when he appeared before Judge Leech in the county court this morning, together with Leo and Walter Imfeld to answer to a delinquency proceeding, filed by State's Attorney Edward Jones. The trio was arrested ten days ago following an attempt to wreck an Illinois Central train by placing spikes in a switch at the north approach to the railroad bridge. The hearing of the Imfeld brothers was continued until Nov. 8.

CALVIN W. RICE, NOTED ENGINEER, DIED THURSDAY

Was Well Known Here: Wife Daughter of Dixon Woman

Calvin W. Rice, one of the most famous engineers in the world, whose wife was formerly Miss Nellie Weisbach, daughter of Mrs. Belle Weisbach, 512 N. Ottawa ave., Dixon, died at his home in Mt. Claire, N. Y., last Thursday, local friends of the distinguished man, who has visited here many times, learned today.

Calvin W. Rice was born in Winchester, Mass., Nov. 4, 1868, the son of Edward Hyde and Lucy J. Staples Rice. He graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1890 with an S. B. degree and later with a degree of doctor of engineering from the Technical Hochschule at Darmstadt. He was united in marriage to Ellen M. Weisbach at Winchester, Mass., Aug. 6, 1904 and to this union two children were born, Edward Winslow and Marjorie C. Rice.

Rose in Industry
He was with the Thomson-Houston Electric Co., from 1889 until 1893 and its successor, the General Electric Co., where he rose to the position of assistant engineer of the power and mining departments, until 1895 when he was appointed local manager at Cincinnati, Ohio. He was electrical engineer for the Silver Lakes Mines in Colorado in 1896-98, later became consulting engineer for the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. He was electrical engineer for the Kings County Electric Light and Power Co., of Brooklyn in 1918 and soon after was electrical engineer of the Consolidated Telegraph and Electric Subway Co., owning and operating the high tension subways of New York, also chief of the meter and testing department of the New York Edison Co.; second vice president and sales manager of the Nemst Lamp Co., since 1903; consulting engineer for the General Electric Co., 1904-06; member of the jury of awards of the New York State Exposition in 1915; secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, honorary member, Masaryk academy (Prague); Deutsch-ex museum, (Munich); Association member in Argentina of the National American Engineering Society; Koninklijk Institute van Ingenieurs, (Holland); Club d'Ingenieria (Rio de Janeiro); American Society of Safety Engineers; corresponding member del Centro Ingeniero de Argentina; Institute de Ingenieros de Chile; Knight of the Cross of the White Lion, (Czechoslovakia).

He was awarded the medal of honor from Verein deutschen Ingenieure, presented at its 50th anniversary at Cologne in 1931. "In appreciation of services to technical scientific achievement, particularly in promoting mutual interests of engineers of the entire world."

Identified in the six as they were identified in court by Harney as a memo bearing the initials "C. T. M." those of Clarence T. McNeille, one of the defendants, and sent to Halsey Stuart & Co. on Mar. 3, 1930.

It said in part:
"Junior called me this afternoon and stated that in view of the fact that so many people seem to be talking about selling Corporation Securities Company of Chicago stock—He did not know just why, but he suggested that I make up some figures as to what our earnings would be for 1930."

Another of the missing letters was one from MacNeille, who was secretary-treasurer of Insull's Corporation Securities Co. of Chicago to Harry Stuart of the investment banking house. Harney described it as one which said in part:
"I read your telegram regarding the payment of dividends on common stock to Junior."

Was on Vacation
"Junior" is the nickname of Insull's son, Samuel Insull, Jr. Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson overruled objections from the defense attorneys intended to halt the questioning of Harney.

The auditor testified briefly in cross-examination that the subpoena on his firm was served while he was on a vacation, although naming him, and that another employee assembled the records in response to it.

Books of some two dozen other corporations, chiefly brokerage houses, were stacked high in the prosecution's special bookcase when Clarence E. Packman appeared as the eighth witness of the case.

Unique Vicks Formula Is Now Aiding Millions In Preventing Many Colds

Vicks Va-tro-nol — for Nose and Throat — Aids Nature's Functions to Prevent Many Colds—and to Throw Off Colds in the Early Stages.

Is Amazingly Successful

Druggists Now Have Combination Samples of Va-tro-nol and other Products Used in Famous Vicks Colds-Control Plan.

Each year, increasing thousands of enthusiastic users are broadcasting the good news of Vicks Va-tro-nol. They have proved for themselves its amazing effectiveness in helping them to side-step many annoying colds.

Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and throat, where most colds start. It aids and stimulates the functions provided by Nature—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off colds in the early stages.

Va-tro-nol is easy and convenient to use—any time or place—at home or at work. Just a few drops up each nostril—at the first sign of discomfort in the nose—irritation or dryness, snuffle or sneeze. Used in time, it helps to avoid many a cold entirely.

Relief for "Stuffy Heads"

both children and adults — Vicks Va-tro-nol contains real medication. Its results cannot be expected from mere "oil drops." Va-tro-nol's effectiveness has been proved in thousands of clinical tests supervised by practicing physicians. ers, flanked on either side with tall lighted tapers.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the Coffman home with decorations in the same shades, pink and ivory, the centerpiece for the table being a three-tiered cake with a miniature bride and bridegroom in the center. At either end of the table were lovely candelabra with tall lighted tapers.

After a wedding trip the couple will return to make their home with the bride's parents until late winter. For traveling the bride wore a black crepe ensemble trimmed with gray squirrel and matching accessories.

Mr. Gasmund and his bride will be at home after March 1 on a farm one and a half miles from Freeport.

W.F.M.S. Meeting At Overstreet Home

(Contributed)

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church met at the hospital home of Mrs. Fred Overstreet on Thursday afternoon with a good attendance. This being the first meeting of the year, many items of business were transacted and the annual reports of last year's work was given showing that the society had had a successful year.

The missionary hymn "I Love to Tell the Story" was sung and Mrs. Chas. Winebrenner lead the devotional service. Her theme was "Contemplative." Several verses of scripture from the Psalms were read. The psalmist views the greatness of God and wonders at his consideration of humanity. With missionary vision we look upon the open door of opportunity upon a world needing nothing so much as the practicing of the precepts of the great teacher. We realize our own need of taking time to be quiet before God, to consider the ways of God and our response to God in our personal living and in our service to His world. Our challenge is the open door, for we are laborers together with Him, the Christ. The words of the beautiful old hymn, "Go Labor On" was read. Prayer was offered by Mrs. E. J. Randall and Mrs. A. E. Marth.

Mrs. Willford, the president, presented the plans for the new year showing the new achievement poster, "The Open Door." The poster shows the massive doors opened, and beyond them, the world with the cross above. Over the door is the theme "Behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it." Before us lies the world, and the path to the "utmost parts" is lighted by divine love. Through the door of the year we pass following as closely as we may in the footsteps of Him, who has promised that he will show us the path and lead us in it. Miss Callie Morgan, literature secretary, told of the plans for the reading circle. New books will be added to the course and all women are invited to read. Miss Flora Seals presented the stewardship plans for the year which will be helpful, there is also the stewardship reading course and the prayer calendar for the year will be used. The text book to be studied this year is "Japanese Women Speak."

Mrs. Raymond Derr read the leaflet introducing the author of the text book, Miss Michi Kawai, telling the story of her life. Miss Flora Seals gave in her usual delightful manner the first chapter "The Church at Work." She spoke of the evangelistic work, the gospel is presented to non Christians with the message of Jesus Christ. It is more true than ever that it is Japanese Christian women who expend time and effort for individual visits to inquirers. It is mostly girls and women who give daily service to Bible schools and to seasonal free kindergartens and day nurseries for peasant families in rice planting and harvest. The women workers in these times are highly trained. The standard of the Bible schools and the women's theological seminaries is so high that only those who are well qualified for college education may enter. The Japanese Christian year book of 1932 gives the names of 127 Japanese women working in the M. E. church. The best known woman in the M. E. Christian community is Miss Torii Furuta. She took a higher course in the Aiyama school in Tokyo, then went to the U. S. for further study. Her thirty years of faithful devotion to the church have inspired many of the younger generation to follow her footsteps.

Announcement was made of the North Western Branch meeting now in session at Indianapolis and the general executive to be held in Washington, D. C. Oct. 10 to 22. One new member was added to the roll. The union meeting with the Home Missionary Society will be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st at the church and Mrs. Herman Fabry will be the speaker. The November meeting will be held with Mesdames Baum and Morris with Mrs. Hobb and Mrs. Morris program leaders. The meeting closed with the missionary benediction.

A social half hour was enjoyed, the hostess served dainty refreshments from a prettily appointed table with Mesdames Morris and Starks pouring.

Golden brown baking powder rolls from your own oven help to give sandwiches otherwise unobtainable distinction.

The gang's all together again after the summer separation. Those to-the-death bridge tournaments, interrupted by vacations and the distractions of outdoor life, are going full-till, and almost every night a few couples drop in to sit until bedtime.

It's lots of fun unless you are one of those hostesses who take being a hostess too seriously. The better way is to be nonchalant like the ladies in the advertisement whom nothing can ever agitate. If you are the hospitable sort who likes to serve refreshments, keep your shelves well stocked with lots of the right kind of canned things and don't try to be elaborate in your sandwich making.

I have found that certain hot and quite simple sandwiches go well with coffee when the evenings are chilly, though my shrimp and egg rolls are the crown of the evening to most of my guests.

For enough rolls to serve eight once around, you must have:
1 cup cooked shrimp
3 hard cooked eggs
2-3 cup mayonnaise

Meeting of Nelson Unit Home Bureau

The Nelson unit of the Home Bureau met in an all day meeting with Mrs. Florence Bellman Tuesday.

After a delicious fried chicken dinner the meeting opened with all singing "America," followed by a stunt, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." The participants were: Old-fashioned girl—Mrs. Evelyn Hollenbeck Old-fashioned boy—Mrs. Verda Hartshorn
Modern girl—Mrs. Dorothy Welch
Modern boy—Mrs. Morse Reader—Mrs. Josephine McCleary
Pianist—Mrs. Bertha Rorick
The parts were well taken and much enjoyed by all.
The roll call—22 members and five visitors.

Minutes of the last meeting were read after which the lesson "How to Develop Leadership" was aptly given by Home Advisor, Mrs. Syverud. It was decided to hold a rummage sale in Dixon Saturday, Oct. 6.

The next meeting will be Nov. 6 at the home of Mrs. Josephine McCleary.

Miss Herman Entered S. S. Class

The Scattergood class of the M. E. church held its first meeting of the winter on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Kathryn Herman.

A business meeting occupied the first part of the evening. The purpose of the meeting was to elect new officers for the class. The following were elected:
President—Helen McNichol
Vice president—Dorothy Oilman
Secretary—June Bellows
Treasurer—Edith J. Vest
Membership chairman—Ethel Cline
Publicity chairman—Ruth Crombie.

Following the business meeting a social time was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held November 3 at the home of Miss Helen McNichol.

Indiana Univ. Adds Dancing to Curriculum

Indianapolis—(AP)—Add dancing to the arts curriculum of a modern university—this is what Indiana university is doing.

A course in rhythmic dancing sponsored by the extension division of the university under auspices of the department of physical training is to be offered in Indianapolis, beginning October 10, and continuing throughout the winter. Officials in charge of the extension division explain the dancing class is part of a thorough course in dramatics, which also is to be made available to Indianapolis residents.

Unity Guild Met At Sinclair Home

Twelve Unity Guild members spent a happy day with Mrs. Sinclair on Thursday. At the noon hour a delicious picnic luncheon was enjoyed by the members and two guests, Mrs. Mary Pilson and Mr. Sinclair.

The day was spent in quilting the quilt to be donated to the bazaar in November.

At a late hour all returned to their homes expressing great pleasure in the day spent at the hospitable Sinclair home with much work accomplished. All members are to meet next Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Sinclair's to do more quilting.

Cherry and Nut Sandwiches
These are interesting little sweet sandwiches made with crackers. You can pass them with the last cup of coffee if you like to finish with a bit of sweet.

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons maple syrup
1-2 cup confectioner's sugar
Few grains salt
Little cinnamon
5 tablespoons maraschino cherries
4 tablespoons chopped pecan

Crackers
Cream butter, add maple syrup and gradually add sugar, salt and cinnamon. Then add maraschino cherries cut in small pieces and broken nut meats. If the mixture is too thick to spread, moisten with cream. Spread between crisp crackers and serve.

School Instruction For White Shrine Very Successful

The Corinthian Shrine No. 40 of the White Shrine of Jerusalem held a school of instruction Saturday at the Masonic Temple which was a most successful and enjoyable affair, of much profit to those attending.

The picnic supper in the evening was well attended, and was a happy feature of the meeting, followed by the school, the first session being held in the afternoon.

The school itself was of infinite help and most interesting. Guests were present from Peru, DeKalb, Morrison, Sterling, etc., etc.

Corporal Punishment Benefits Few

(By Olive Roberts Barton)

"To whip or not to whip"—probably I am asked more about this than about any other problem pertaining to children.

It seems to be the consensus that all authorities on child training are dead set against the rod.

Actually, they don't favor it any too much, but not for reasons generally supposed.

The whole truth is toward more constructive ways of teaching a child to make the most of himself, to leave him his strong will and self assertion, but to turn them toward good, and hold them along active normal lines of conduct.

However there still remains a theory—and practice. What good does it do to stick our heads in the clouds and prattle of ideals when here is Willy right at our heels pinching the baby, kicking the cat, and stamping his foot, or saying, "I won't go to bed and you can't make me."

Points to Consider

What about it, mothers? Are we going to reason with Willy, or are we going to trounce him?

I will try to show why I believe the rod to be futile in the long run in the case of the strong-willed child; and in the case of the weak-willed, more harmful than beneficial. And why corporal punishment fails as a general cure-all.

When the child learns to gauge the limits of his conduct depending on his mother's temper, presence or absence.

When Will is Involved

The strong-willed child "dares" punishment. Whippings will be more frequent, harder and unreasoning. Such a child won't "give in" without being "broken" in spirit. All right. Watch him then. He will need it.

The weak-willed child will give in perhaps at once, but if his pride in himself is killed he will be different. There are cases where even one whipping will degrade a child in his own eyes beyond reclaiming.

And so it takes some considerable if a child takes it all in his stride and does not brood or resent or live it over and over, the matter of a spanking on the place nature padded to take a few wallops may be just the medicine for him. But it must be done, not as a means for a parent to relieve his own outrage and tight nerves but as a means of awakening the child to the fact that he cannot ride through this world rough-shod.

GEN. MITCHELL AGAIN GIVES US THOUGHT.

You can always count on Gen. William E. Mitchell to say something that will start an argument. His most recent outburst—in which he told the Federal Aviation Commission, among other things, that the United States should proceed to build at least 50 dirigibles along the lines of the Macon—ought to provoke discussion that will last for many days.Laying aside the general's fondness for saying startling things just to roil the tempers of military bigwigs, it ought to be added that where aviation is concerned he has a pretty good knowledge of what he is talking about.That is to say that, if General Mitchell still believes in the dirigible as a military weapon, it might be worth our while to re-examine the question thoroughly—in spite of the disillusionment which the loss of the Akron brought to us.For General Mitchell goes on to say that the loss of the Akron reflects on the competence of the navy's lighter-than-air experts rather than on the capabilities of the dirigible itself. Given proper handling, he says, the Akron should not have been lost; its loss, in other words, is not prima facie evidence that giant dirigibles are too fragile for military use.It is General Mitchell's idea that aircraft have completely revolutionized strategy. Navies and armies take a back seat, as he sees the military art; the side that can strike the hardest blow in the air will win, because it will demoralize its foe before the fleets and the troops can swing into action.Given this viewpoint, it is not hard to see why the general urges a fleet of 50 dirigibles. Get such a fleet, he says in effect, and you can strike at a distance of six or eight thousand miles. You can send your air fleet clear across either ocean; even if you lose half of it, you deal such a devastating blow that you win the war.Now it is precisely such an attitude that is designed to provide an argument. Orthodox military men will dispute every sentence of it. It is extremely difficult for the ordinary citizen to figure out just which side has the right of it.But General Mitchell's remarks do indicate that we may be a trifle hasty in condemning the dirigible. One does not need to go all the way with him to feel that these frail but ingenious ships may yet prove decidedly useful in the national defense.

STILL MORE FOR RELIEF.

The relief problem continues to put a pressure on the federal budget which may have incalculable effects. Secretary Ickes announces that he would "like to have a real appropriation" for public works this winter, and it is reported that Congress may be asked to give him as much as $2,000,000,000.Just where such a sum would leave our hopes for a balanced budget is not quite clear. Certainly the outlook is not exactly rosy. And yet it is hard to see how the appropriation of some such sum for public works can be avoided.Our relief problem is a stupendous one. It simple cannot be dodged. We cannot let our people starve. That means huge federal expenditures, as long as unemployment remains acute.Spending money on public works is more effective and less wasteful than making direct payment for relief. It keeps the budget unbalanced, we shall probably just have to put up with it.

MONEY GONE BEGGING.

One of the oddest bits of news to come out of Washington in a long time is the revelation that matured government securities to the value of at least $20,000,000 are being held by various forgetful citizens, who seem to have overlooked completely the fact that Uncle Sam owes them money.Some of these bonds date back to the first government security issue, which came out before 1800 and matured more than a century ago. Others represent unredeemed Liberty Loan bonds and war savings certificates. Their holders are entitled to cash them, and the money is waiting for them—but somehow they don't seem to do it.You would doubtless get some interesting stories, if you ran down a handful of these unredeemed bonds. Certainly the whole thing is an unusually sidelight on the absent-mindedness of a sizable number of Americans.If we hadn't shipped powder to France, she would have been defeated and Germany would have conquered England as well. The Kaiser with his world of dream power wouldn't have stopped there.—Irene du Pont, munitions manufacturer.With at least 80 per cent of the human family, human rights have utterly vanished. With these, liberty is dead.
—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho.As long as Mme. Lupescu remains in Rumania, nobody will be able to accomplish anything good. — Dr. Julius Mania of the Peasant Party.Life is just one big movie in which heroes are made, and made glamorous.—The Rev. Henry Scott Rubel, now scenario writer.

Living Our Everyday Lives

BEST SERMON

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)

"I never remembered that he preached to us except by example," said Sir Austen Chamberlain in opening a Memorial to his father at Highbury, the old home of the family.By example—and since actions speak louder than words, it was the best sermon. Not telling his sons to do the hard thing, but doing it;
not urging them to avoid evil, but scorning it himself.Precept was not needed; he set the example. He showed what it is to speak the truth, by never stooping to a lie; and what a man ought to believe, by living year in and year out as a man who believes in the depths of his soul and puts his faith into his acts.One need not belittle the power of the spoken word; it is very real.
At times a word has the force of a deed, in that it awakens us to do what we know we ought to do.
But example is an eloquence that the most tongue-tied and illiterate among us can employ.One thinks of the lovely story of St. Francis, how he asked one of the Brothers to go with him into the village to preach. Arm in arm they walked down the hill, rejoicing in the soft spring sunlight, talking of the love of God, happy in their fellowship.On through the village they went, up to the hill on the other side; then back again to the monastery gate, without stopping.
"But are we not going to preach today?" asked the Brother. "We have preached," said Francis; "We have been happy in the love of God and in the glory of His sunlight—that is our sermon for the day."Mark Twain told that story the last time he visited the Tom Sawyer country, to a group gathered in his honor. He said he was asreverent as anybody and had a right to preach; a fact no one denied. The old man was thinking of what truth his life had taught.Yes, example is the best sermon, more golden than all eloquence of tongue or pen. Our business is not to be better than others but to be better than ourselves, and he who lives faithfully has kept the faith.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 7.The Golden Text was, "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever" (1 John 2:16, 17).Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings; they fly away as an eagle toward heaven" (Proverbs 23: 5).The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"The only fact concerning any material concept is, that it is neither scientific nor eternal, but subject to change and dissolution" (p. 297).A THOUGHT FOR TODAYTherefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife; and they shall be one flesh.Nothing is more noble, nothing more venerable than fidelity.— Cicero.

the factory for canning. The factories also packed lima beans this year.State candidates on the Democratic ticket will visit Rochelle Friday noon, Oct. 12. Weather permitting the meeting will be held in Memorial park. Michael Igoo and Martin A. Brennan, candidates for Congressman-at-Large, will be the principal speakers. They will be accompanied by John Stelle, candidate for State Treasurer, and John A. Wieland, candidate for Supt. of Public Instruction. The county candidates will meet the party at Rochelle, and it is possible they may stop at Oregon and Polo before going to Rockford for the night meeting.

Obituary

CARL WARNER

Carl Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Warner of Ogle county, was born in Pine Creek Township February 28, 1899, and departed this life after a brief illness on September 26, 1934, aged 34 years, six months and twenty-eight days. In April 1919 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Long of Harmon. To this union was born one child, a daughter, Marian, whose birth only a few months ago came as a great blessing to the home. When the World War came Carl responded to the call of his country and enlisted in the Aviation Corps on Sept. 25, 1918, and was under orders for overseas service when the Armistice was signed. His untimely death came as a shock to his loved ones and the wide circle of friends he had made. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife and daughter, father and mother, two brothers, Russell and Leonard and one sister, Mrs. Ray Brooks of Dixon. In addition to these near relatives, there is a large number of friends and relatives who join with the stricken wife and parents in mourning his departure. Carl was a young man of sterling character and possessed much business ability which made him valuable to his community.
He was progressive, industrious, and always had his work well in hand so that he could go to the assistance of a neighbor who might need his help at any time. He was sympathetic in the time of sickness or distress and always went to the assistance of a neighbor in need. He was of a genial disposition, a kind and loving husband and father, always meeting his friend with a smile and a cheerful word, so that his friends increased with the years, and all who knew him held him in the highest respect. His sudden illness, followed by an emergency operation at the Dixon hospital and his death four days later, all within a week, came as a great shock to his loved ones and to his many friends. His mortal form was laid tenderly to rest in Oakwood cemetery in Dixon on the afternoon of September 28, following the funeral service at the country home, conducted by Rev.
James A. Barnett, pastor of thePerfect for country weekends, football games and informal days in town are these Parisian tweeds.
The double-breasted Creed coat (left) of fuzzy home-spun, combining black and red-brown threads, has four pockets, a turned-down collar and notched lapels. It's worn with a scarf of red and yellow printed surah. The other creation (right) consists of black, white and red checked tweed coat, straight black skirt and a red lester-wool blouse. The front of the smart swagger coat may be buttoned back to form a tuxedo line or fastened high about the neck.First Christian church of Dixon.
Military honors were accorded him by a detachment of the American Legion post of Oregon, Ill. who provided the firing squad and bugler for the farewell salute at the cemetery.

LEFT-HANDEDNESS

Up to about the age of two, practically all children appear to use either hand indiscriminately. As soon as the child acquires a minimum amount of manual dexterity, it is taught to be "dexterous," that is, right-handed.Right-handedness is, however, hereditary, as is left-handedness.
Whence arose left-handedness?
One of the most popular explanations given holds that early man realized by experience in combat that wounds in the left chest were more liable to be fatal than those in the right. Hence to protect the left side, he used the left arm for a shield, and the right arm thus developed as the weapon carrier.The neurologic explanation for left-handedness, given in terms of the development of the nervous system, is more convincing. Various observers tell us that the left side of the brain develops somewhat earlier than the right one, and hence the right side of the body becomes earlier and more emphatically used, owing to a greater supply of nerve force to its muscles.To understand this, we must appreciate that the motor nerve fi-bres controlling muscular activity run from one side of the brain to the opposite side of the body. Thus, for example, a right-sided paralysis, due to a stroke, means injury to the left side of the brain, and vice versa.The neurologic explanation of right-handedness receives its greatest support from the fact that the so-called speech center is to be found in the left half of the brain.
It has been clinically demonstrated, however, that the speech center may be developed on the right side as well, and theoretically in left-handed persons there is a transposition of the speech center from the left half to the right half of the brain.It is on this basis, too, that the association of stammering with enforced right-handedness is established. The theory is that a natural left-handed child, forced to use its right hand, suffers a variety of muscular incoordinations, among which speech is included.Tomorrow — Giving Nature a Chance.Read the ads in today's Tele-

Annual Conference

Members of the Dixon Methodist church and hundreds of his friends not affiliated with that faith, will rejoice today to learn that Dr. Gilbert Stansell, the popular pastor, has been returned to Dixon for another year.

Sycamore, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The 95th annual Rock River Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, ended last night with the announcement of pastoral appointments for the coming year and the preaching of the closing sermon by Bishop Ernst Lynn Waldorf of the Chicago area.

Three elders and three deacons were ordained by Bishop Frederick D. Leete. In this group was Mrs. H. S. McKown of Hopper Grove, Ill., who was ordained local elder. Changes in ministerial appointments.

ILLINI PREPARE FOR OHIO STATE
NEXT SATURDAY

Are Shellshocked But Still Fighting
for Zupke

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Although somewhat shellshocked from the close victory which they scored over Washington University Saturday, Bob Zupke's Illini football warriors today started laying plans for the opening of the conference season. Ohio State will appear here Saturday for Illini's annual homecoming game, which will be featured by a tribute to Red Orange.

Jimmy Conzelman's Washington Bears, inspired for the occasion by their much more stubborn foe than had been expected. Only the supreme play of Les Lindberg, junior Illini halfback, turned the tide. In the last quarter 85-yard drive for the touchdown that spelled victory for Illini, Lindberg carried the ball 13 times for a gain of 58 yards.

The Ohio State game has been the objective of a great deal of the early Illini coaching and much of the groundwork for this week's task has been laid. Freshmen have been drilled on Buckeye plays and have been called to the varsity grounds several times to display the formations.

Suitable occupants of an end position and a tackle post will be selected this week. Gen. Nelson, Gene Dykstra and Arvo Antilla are still disputing the flank position and each shared about equally in Saturday's play.

STAGNATION IN BUILDING LINE
MAY BE ENDED

Such is the Purpose of Better Housing Program Here

The purpose of the modernization and improvement campaign, soon to be launched in this city as part of the National Better Housing Program, is to overcome the many ill effects of 5 years of stagnation in the building industry, according to Edw. Valle, chairman of the committee directing the campaign here.

"As the direct result of this virtual collapse of the building industry," Mr. Valle went on to explain, "quite a large percentage of the structures in Dixon are greatly in need of repair. The same is true, of course, throughout the country. Many properties have reached a point where it is hardly worth making any effort to salvage them. Many are close to the border line. Prompt action will arrest the processes of obsolescence. Therefore, the Dixon Better Housing Program presents a very practical aspect. It is prompted by nothing short of the meaning of good judgment to allow these property values to continue to depreciate.

"There are, of course," Mr. Valle continued, "many other very good reasons why this program should be carried forward. It will do much to rehabilitate real-estate values in this city and it will be tremendously useful in furnishing employment and putting more money into circulation. Funds that now are lying idle in the hands of the community will be drawn out and put to work in a manner that could scarcely be exceeded for practical value.

"In my opinion, the National Housing Act, which makes it possible for local banks and other approved financial institutions to loans on extremely reasonable terms for needed repairs and improvements, is one of the soundest recovery measures that has been enacted. I am sure everyone will welcome the campaign we are organizing locally.

"It takes little imagination to realize how the action of an individual property owner can carry out fully the purposes of the Better Housing Program. When he arranges for his loan, he is putting his money into the local circulation where it can work for every citizen. He pays a part of it to local merchants for materials which helps to start the wheels of mills and factories turning. The larger part of it he pays to a variety of local skilled labor—our own little group from the millions in the building trades who have been without steady work for years. Those wages get back into immediate circulation through our local merchants. And a home has been taken off the property relief roll and conditioned into efficiency and normal value again.

"Multiply that individual's actions by millions of property owners and you have the country-wide fulfillment of the purposes of this portion of the National Housing Act.

"It's benefits extend to owners of residences, apartments, store-fronts, offices and business buildings. Industrial plants and farm property. The scope of work possible embraces almost any permanent improvement that adds to the efficiency or value of property—eligible improvements having included recently, for instance, such an emergency activity as digging wells in the drought-swept areas of the country.

"Simplicity of operation marks every phase of the act's provisions, the more quickly the property improvement action on a large scale with its resulting stimulation to industry and employment.

"The purposes of the Better Housing Program are sound, understandable, and a bold acceptance of the challenge of depression conditions to millions of property owners with their investments of billions of dollars."

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade telephoned the newspaper a report of the death of EDWARD SHILLINGBRY, private detective, believed to have been killed by "CINCINNATI RED" LAMPSON, gangster. The same night an impostor, pretending to be FRANK B. CATHAY of Riverview, wealthy and prominent, is brought to police headquarters on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. With him is a girl who says she is MARY BRICKS, hitch-hiker. Both are released.

Morden telephones the facts to his newspaper. Next day the real Cathay calls on DICK KENNEY, city editor of The Blade. Cathay claims his reputation has been injured, and demands damages and a retraction.

DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, hears the story from Kenney and Morden. Bleeker says, "There's something fishy about this," and sends Morden to Riverview to learn all he can about Cathay.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IV

DAN BLEEKER, junior partner and publisher of The Blade, turned to Morden, his police reporter. "I'm putting someone else at your desk down at headquarters," he said. "You get busy and chase down every lead you can get on Frank B. Cathay. Dig into Cathay's life with a spade, and dig deep. There'll be plenty there that he won't want to have brought out—there always is. The trouble with mer of his type is that they pose as being altogether too perfect. They put up a front that isn't human. When you get back of that front you find a lot of stuff that nobody knows about. You get busy and dig out."

"Yes, sir," said Morden. "But don't spring any of it," said Bleeker. "You button it up under your hat and see that you keep your mouth shut. You get the information. As you get it, you bring it to me. You'd better make daily reports."

"Suppose they get wise to me?" Morden asked.

Bleeker's words popped out with the explosive force of firecrackers.

"Don't give a damn!" he snapped. "Let 'em find out. What do we care? Tell 'em what you're there for if they ask questions. Remember, young man, that this newspaper is back of you. Frank B. Cathay may be bigger than you are but, by God, the newspaper is bigger than he is! He's started a fight. All right, he's going to get a fight. Tell him so! Stand up and look him in the eyes and tell him that."

"Whatever you do, don't be sneaky. Don't get to skulking around corners, listening at key holes, peering through windows. Bust right in. You've got a job—it's a legitimate job. Frank B. Cathay is going to claim that his reputation is worth something and that we've damaged it. All right, the question of what that reputation is worth is a fact to be determined. It depends on a lot of things. You're going to find out those things. Don't be ashamed of what you're doing. Don't let anyone get on to the defensive. Do you understand?"

Morden nodded.

"You're engaged in a fight," Dan Bleeker said. "and there's a

"You know," Mrs. Cathay said, "husbands would very frequently make fools of themselves were it not for the restraining hand of a wife."

"Thank you," she said in a voice that was neither cordial nor grateful. She remained standing.

Ethel West strode into Dan Bleeker's private office.

"Mrs. Cathay is out there," she said.

Bleeker looked up at her with a swift frown.

"Alone?"

"Yes."

"What does she want?"

"She won't tell me."

"What does she look like?"

"She's about 30. She has lots of money and she's spent a lot of it on her appearance. She's got one of those schoolgirl complexions. She hardly ever moves her facial muscles. Her eyes are nervous. She's trying to make a good impression. She's wearing a fur coat with a big collar; she looks better in it when she's standing up. She started to sit down and then changed her mind. She thinks perhaps you might come out to see her. Instead of letting her come in to see you, she's standing up so she can make a good impression."

"Your name," she said. "Is Mrs. Frank B. Cathay. You're from Riverview and you wish to see Mr. Bleeker but won't explain the nature of your business. Is that right?"

The woman was expensively gowned and well kept; her manner regal, yet worried. Her face was nestled against the collar of a fur coat, a collar which had been carefully selected to set off the delicate oval of the face, when the face was held against the collar at just such an angle.

"Yes," she said. "Will you be so good as to tell him that I am here?"

Ethel West moved with slow deliberation.

"You'll have to wait," she said. "Will you be seated?"

Mrs. Cathay bit at her under lip. Then her face once more relaxed into perfect repose.

PICKETS FORCE CHURCH TO LET
MAN KEEP HOMEIdle World War Veteran and Family to Stay in House

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Broadway Tabernacle Congregational church capitulated today to the "chastening experience" of being picketed.

After a shabby group of pickets paraded before the church during the Sunday services, protesting that the church—in the role of landlord—was about to evict an unemployed war veteran from his basement home, the man was given another week in his present quarters and the church promised to help find a new home for him, his wife and four children.

It all started when the pickets appeared with placards bearing on one side the legend:

"The Broadway Tabernacle church is really the Bro-Tab Realty Corporation and is evicting a war veteran from a exempt house at 1935 Elder avenue, the Bronx, for $12.50 back rent."

On the other side was the inscription:

"Query for Preacher
"Mr. Preacher, what will you tell God about the eviction by this church of a world war veteran who fought for God and country?"

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers, told the congregation about it freely from the pulpit.

"The church officials have carried this family for a considerable time, knowing that the man was out of work," he said.

"So difficult did the situation become that, at this time when new places of residence are being sought, he was asked to seek another place. To him it would have been an advantage since naturally the back rent due the trustees would have remained unpaid and he could have started in at a new place with the support of home relief."

"We could get no cooperation from the tenant in arranging a move. Finally, therefore, legal steps were taken to force him to seek another room."

Delegation Welcome
Once during the services, a house-headed man entered the church and said, "I want to bring in a delegation."

"You are welcome," said the pastor.

The men refused to enter, however, when they were met in the vestibule by Mark R. MacDonald, manager of the Bro-Tab Corporation, and were told that they could not address the congregation. The tenant in question, Harry Frogel, a silk weaver, stood calmly by.

An hour after the services, MacDonald called the veterans to his office and arranged the truce. He said Frogel was about $80 behind in rent to the corporation, the officers of which are all trustees of the church.

"This can be for all of us a chastening experience," said the pastor. "Mind you I believe the particular people are wrong in this particular situation. But are we to expect that in a world where there is so much trouble, so many hard trials, we shall have no troubles?"

TWO HUNDRED MILLION MORE
FOR VETERANS

Congress Will be Asked for About 775 Million Dollars

Washington, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The government is counting on congress to appropriate at least $200,000,000 more for the veterans' administration next year than it did in 1934.

Expectations of such an increase are based on the veterans' payments restored at the last session of congress over President Roosevelt's veto, and on a supreme court decision which overturned a section of the 1933 economy act.

Though the budget bureau declines to discuss the matter in advance of the President's budget message to congress, it is no secret that deficiency and regular appropriations to be asked in 1935 will total nearer $775,000,000 than the $567,598,096 appropriated this year.

No Fund Provided
This year's sum included no funds to meet the payments restored over the president's veto, although the restorations went into effect immediately. Therefore the veterans' administration is preparing to ask $80,000,000 to take care of the first year cost of these payments.

The next congress also will be asked to make up a deficiency—now estimated at $4,628,250—resulting from additional widows and orphans' pensions which the last congress voted but provided no money to pay.

Money also will be asked to meet the second-year cost of these two items.

Court Decision
Another increase is predicted as a result of the supreme court's decision of May 29, 1934. It attacked a section of the 1933 economy act which sought to repeal all laws pertaining to war risk insurance claims.

This decision opened the way to additional insurance claims based on deaths from war-time injuries and sickness. It is expected in some quarters to require an appropriation of $130,000,000 next year for the military and naval insurance fund, instead of the $112,300,000 provided this year.

'BREAKS' TURN; CARDINALS DO AN ABOUT FACE

National Champions
Look Like Tigers
Did at Beginning

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)
Detroit, Oct. 8.—(AP)—It is an old baseball custom to blame it on the "breaks of the game." World series history has been filled with costly incidents such as the miff by Fred Snodgrass and the cost Christy Mathewson and the Giants their chance for triumph in 1912 of the episode of Hank Gowdy's tripping over his mask in the last inning of the 1924 battle, paving the way for the Senators to score the decisive run for the great Walter Johnson.

It's all part of the percentage and the "payoff" but the St. Louis Cardinals today, within one game of losing the world championship that seemed so surely in their grasp a few days ago believe they are the victims of the worst collection of "breaks" in memory, regardless of the fact they have no one to blame but themselves. The truth seems to be that the National League champions contracted the same sort of fielding jitters that the Tigers shook off after their first game defeat. Or that, finally, they are suffering a reaction from the strain of their sensational last month drive to the pennant.

Some Bad Breaks
Looking back now, the Cards can point to the fact that but for a misjudged flyball that dropped for a scratch double in center, and that mixup that allowed a pop fly to drop untouched along the first base line they would have beaten Schoolboy Rowe in the second game and had three straight victories instead of a 2 to 1 lead. But for two misjudged chances by Chick Fullis yesterday in center field, Dizzy Dean would have had an opportunity to battle Tommy Bridges into extra innings with the count only 1-1 for the regulation round, instead of being beaten 3 to 1.

Moreover the National League came into the enemy's country again, fully convinced they had had all the worst of the umpiring "breaks." It's the privilege of the loser to squawk, and Manager Frank Frisch's lads have been exercising their privileges with vehemence. They are especially bitter over the decisions behind the plate of Umpire in Chief Brick Owens of the American League in yesterday's game. Owens drew down the ire of the whole Cardinals team by calling out Jack Rothrock for interference with Mickey Cochran's throw while Pepper Martin was trying to steal second. The ninth inning wound up with Owens threatening Catcher Bill Delaney with a $200 fine for the choice character of Bill's remarks during and after he was called out on strikes.

May Not Report It
Only once before during the Landis regime has a player been fined for altercation with an umpire during a world series game and the commissioner will act only if and when he receives a report from Owens. Up to leaving St.

Dizzy Dean Beamed

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, being carried from the field after he was knocked unconscious by a throw from Rogell, Detroit Tigers' shortstop, in the fourth inning of Saturday's game. He recovered to pitch on Sunday.

NEA—Chicago Bureau

Louis last night, Landis had no word from the umpire.

Seldom before has a world series produced so many reversals of form. At the outset the Tiger infield—the "Battalion of Death"—looked like the four Marx Brothers in a comedy act. They came down to earth as suddenly as they had blown up, playing errorless ball in two of the next four games.

Pepper Martin broke loose with all the old time vigor to help the Cardinals capture the third game behind Paul Dean but the series hero of 1931 did a back flip and came up with three errors the next afternoon, tying the record for misplays at third base.

Greenberg Wakes Up
Hank Greenberg, a "bust" in the pinches during the first three games and dropped two notches in the batting order, came up with four hits, tying another series record, and drove home three runs in the fourth contest.

Finally, Tommy Bridges, knocked out in the fifth inning of his first start last Friday, came back two days later to pitch one of the finest games of his career. Where he had been wild and unsteady the first time out, Bridges was a model of control yesterday.

Speaking of contrasts, the difference between the performances of the rival centerfielders in the current baseball may turn out to mean the difference between the winning and losing end of the player pool.

Whereas Joyner (Jo Jo) White has been roaming the middle aisle for the Tigers like a prairie wolf, devouring every chance in sight, Ernie Ott and Chick Fullis of the Cards have been stumbling and tumbling around, making themselves a lot of unnecessary trouble.

White helped save yesterday's game for Bridges with a sensational running catch of Pepper Martin's drive in deep left center, near the bleacher wall. It was his most vivid play thus far but his defensive work has been outstanding from the start. Operating in the same pasture, Ott had two errors in the first game and misjudged a fly in the next costing a run, while Fullis misjudged two ground balls yesterday, each leading to a Tiger run.

FINE WRESTLING CARD THURSDAY EVE, ROCKFORD

Promoter Darst to Stage
Another Great Show

With the signing of Pete Schuh of Vancouver and Buddy Rhule of Los Angeles for the opening preliminary with a 30 minute time limit Promoter Lee Darst has three of his four bouts on the tab for his third wrestling show at the Coliseum on Thursday evening of this week.

What would be a "natural" in any man's town heads the list in the windup spot with Jim McMillen clashing with Olaf Olsen, the Swedish strong man from Milwaukee. The two will wrestle the best two out of three falls with a 90 minute limit.

The fans who have attended the first two mat shows at the Coliseum know what each man can do in the ring. They know McMillen is a cagey wrestler who knows all the answers in the wrestling game while the less experienced Olsen is one of the most powerful mat performers ever to appear here. It is going to be a question of whether or not the wily Jim can keep away from Olsen and his dangerous facelock.

The semi-windup brings two new mat stars to Rockford with Dr. Karl Sarpola, the wrestling dentist of Glen Lyon, Pa., meeting "Whitey" Hewitt of Altoona, Pa. Hewitt, who stands 6 feet, 1 inch and weighs 210 pounds, has wrestled such mat stars as Gus Sonnenberg, Ed Don George, Nick Lutz, the Duseks, Jim London, and others.

GRIDIRON FANS AMAZED BY SURPRISING UPSETS

Continuation of Unexpected Results to Boost Receipts

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—If football can produce another series of exciting upsets such as amazed a palpitating public last Saturday, the country's stadia should be half large enough to hold the prospective customers.

However the experts may feel about such items as Notre Dame's defeat by Texas, Michigan's rout by Michigan State, Purdue's walkover by Rice, and the downfall of such eastern standbys as Penn and Cornell, the fact remains that such surprises add tremendously to Mr. John H. Fan's interest. There is plenty of dynamite, concealed or otherwise, in this week's slate which, by sections, lines up this way:

Far West
Notre Dame and Purdue will try to assuage their injured feelings in a battle at South Bend. Chicago and Michigan and Illinois and Ohio State are the Big Ten conference pairings. Iowa, victor over Northwestern, tangles with Nebraska, beaten by Minnesota. Missouri and Iowa State open Big Six conference competition while the sectional angle is stressed in the meetings of Detroit and Washington & Jefferson Friday night and Michigan State and Carnegie Tech on Saturday. Vanderbilt tangles with the University of Cincinnati, badly beaten by Kentucky. Tulsa, victor over Kansas, plays Texas Christian.

East
Pitt's joust with the Southern California tops the card despite the "Trojans" defeat by Washington State. Other inter-sectional duels include Columbia and Virginia Military, Army and Drake, Temple and Indiana, and West Virginia and Washington & Lee. Yale, beaten by Columbia, faces Penn, tripped by little Ursinus. Harvard faces Brown while Cornell and Syracuse renew relations at Ithaca and Navy meets Maryland. Boston College and Fordham, Duquesne and Bucknell are the leading Friday pairings.

Far West
Stanford's tussle with Northwestern tops a program marked otherwise by conference games involving Oregon and Washington and Montana and U. C. L. A. Washington State, conqueror of Southern California, meets Gonzaga. California and Oregon State play warm-up rivals.

South
Duke will seek to avenge last year's costly defeat by Georgia Tech while Kentucky plays Clemson and Georgia meets North Carolina in other tests between representatives of the south's two major conferences.

Southwest
South Carolina and North Carolina State clash in the only Southern Conference tilt while in the southeast the pairings include Alabama and Mississippi State, Louisiana State and Auburn, Florida, and Tulane, and Tennessee and Mississippi.

Southwest
Arkansas, victor over Texas Christian in the first conference game, takes on Baylor next while Rice and Southern Methodist square off at Houston. Texas A. & M. entertains Centenary while Texas is playing host to Oklahoma.

Rocky Mountain
Five conference games are on the card headed by the Utah-Brigham Young and Denver-Colorado Aggies duels. Colorado Teachers and Colorado University, Western State and Colorado Mines, and Wyoming and Montana State are the others.

PAUL WANER IS LEADER AMONG SENIOR BATTERS

Pittsburgh Fielder Wins Championship for a Second Time

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, winning the National League batting crown for the second time in his big-league career, captured most of the senior circuit's hitting honors for the 1934 but in the final summing up the champion St. Louis Cardinals earned a lot of credit.

Waner, who hit through the season on a 362 clip and led his nearest rival, Bill Terry of the New York Giants by ten points, was a three-way leader according to the final semi-official records, released today. He was high scorer with 122 runs and had the largest hit total, 217 blows.

On the list of other leaders among the 240 players who appeared during the season were three St. Louis hitters, Joe Medwick, Jim Collins and Jack Rothrock, and the leading base stealer, Pepper Martin, who topped 23. Medwick led in triples with 18; Collins hit 35 home runs to tie Mel Ott of New York for the lead, and Rothrock, who went to bat 647 times, was the only player to make five hits a game in two occasions. Eight others did it once.

Played Every Game
Collins and Rothrock didn't miss one of the Cards' games, playing in 154. Ott and Terry did the same for New York and Gus Suhr for Pittsburgh.

The batting race lay between Waner and Terry with almost no opposition. Kiki Cuyler of Chicago finished third with an unofficial average of .338. Other leading regulars were Collins of St. Louis and Arky Vaughan of Pittsburgh, .333; Sam Leslie, Brooklyn, .332; Joe Moore, New York, and Ethan Allen, Philadelphia, .331; John Moore, Cincinnati, and Philadelphia, .330; and Ott, .325. Harlin Pool of Cincinnati barely missed a place among the regulars with a .327 mark. He played in only 99 games, one short of the number required for a "regular."

The season's only record went to Bill Urbanski of Boston, who walked four times and sacrificed twice in six trips to the plate on June 13 to tie the mark set by Miller Huggins of St. Louis in 1910.

Dizzy Hogs Honors
On the pitching side Dizzy Dean, the Cardinals' ace, swept, practically everything as he became the first National League pitcher since 1917 to win 30 games. He lost only seven for a .811 average; took part in 50 games, recorded seven shutouts and struck out 193. He had the season's longest winning streak, ten straight. His teammate, Bill Walker, won 12 games and lost four for second place at 750 while Waite Hoyt, Pittsburgh veteran, was third with 15 victories to six defeats.

Carl Hubbell of the Giants hit one high mark with 25 complete games, one more than Dean. Van Mungo of Brooklyn, who pitched 314 innings, was the season's wild man, giving 109 walks. Silas Johnson of Cincinnati suffered 22 defeats and his teammate, Paul Derringer, 21. Johnson won seven games and Derringer 15.

SEVERAL BIG 10 TEAMS ARE BIT GROGGY IN HEAD

Michigan and Purdue Join Notre Dame in Contemplation

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Some what groggy from opening game defeats for Michigan and Purdue, the Big Ten today waded into preparation for another tough set of gridiron assignments Saturday.

The mighty Wolverines, sole owners or share holders of the conference title for the past two years, took their first beating since 1915 from Michigan State, 16 to 0, and Purdue, attempting to operate without Duane Purvis, fell before Rice Institute of Houston, Tex. 14 to 0. The other shocker for the neighborhood was Notre Dame's 7 to 6 defeat by the University of Texas.

Two conference games head up Saturday's bill. Ohio, victor by 33 to 0 over Indiana Saturday, will meet Illinois at Champaign and Michigan will hit the comeback trail against Chicago at Stages Field. Purdue and Notre Dame will stage the second of their current series at South Bend.

Intersectional Games
The intersectional part of the schedule sends three Big Ten squads away from home. Northwestern, beaten by Iowa Saturday, 20 to 7, in their conference opener, will journey to Palo Alto, Calif., to battle Stanford. Iowa will meet Nebraska's Cornhuskers at Lincoln, and Indiana will meet Pop Warner.

GEHRIG GRABS MAIN HONORS IN AMERICAN LOOP

Wins Batting Crown for First Time in Iron Man Career

Chicago, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig, iron man of the New York Yankees and a front rank hitter since he became a regular, has won the American League batting championship for the first time, and with it the lion's share of his circuit's slugging honors.

Gehrig ran his string of consecutive games to 1504, compiled an average of .363, and drew away from his chief rival, Charley Gehring of the champion Detroit Tigers, in the last week of the campaign. Gehrig finished second with .356.

The Yankee first baseman not only replaced Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics as batting champion, but defeated him in the battle for the home run title. Gehrig slammed out 48 round-trip hits, to 44 for Foxx. Gehrig also drove in 165 runs to lead that department by a wide margin, and had 409 in total bases, another best mark.

Gehring, seconded in batting, also was runnerup for individual laurels. He crashed out 214 hits, to 210 for Gehrig, and led the league in scoring with 132 runs. Ben Chapman of the Yankees hit 13 triples. Hank Greenberg, Detroit's first baseman, hit 63 doubles, and Billy Werber, Boston third baseman, led in stolen bases with 40.

Leading Regulars
Other leading regulars in batting were Heinie Manush, Washington, .349; Al Simmons, Chicago, .344; Joe Vosmik, Cleveland, .341; Greenberg, .339; Foxx, last year's champion, .334 for seventh place; Hal Trosky, Cleveland, and Pinky Higgins, Philadelphia, .300, and Sam West, St. Louis, .326.

Vernon Gomez, the Yankees, slim southpaw, and Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe of the Tigers shared the pitching honors. Gomez led the league with 26 victories and 5 defeats, and struck out 158 batsmen. Rowe won 24, lost 8, and became the fourth pitcher in his league to rack up 16 victories in a row. Tommy Bridges, another Tiger ace, won 22 and lost 11, and Mel Harder, Cleveland's fine righthander, scored 20 triumphs, against 12 defeats.

Detroit led in team batting with an even 300 mark, according to the semi-official figures; Washington fielded for .974, to outpoint Detroit and New York which tied for second at .973; Philadelphia had the most doubleplays, 165, and the Tigers turned in two triple plays.

Answers to Previous Questions
THE Titusville well produced about 400 gallons a day, from a depth of 69 1/2 feet. Sargent's school was the Lyceum School of Acting, which later became the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. It was the first devoted exclusively to training for the professional stage. The radio commission consisted of five members, with authority to license broadcasting stations and distribute wave lengths.
